

STOCKS

The stock market showed greater firmness and force than for some months past owing to the combined forces of Goldfield Con. which went to $2.25 from $2 on the strength of earnings reported for January, which were $40,000 in excess of the December earnings. In the Tonopah list Merger went to 85 and closed strong at that figure on reports of ore in the west drift where the company has never claimed any showings that led the street to anticipate such excellent news.

The following are the closing stock quotations, and the record of the day's sales, as received from the San Francisco stock exchange this afternoon by Broker H. E. Epstein:

CONSOLIDATED MINES COMPANY
REPORTS DECEMBER OPERATIONS

Gross and net earnings of the Consolidated Mines company in December were considerably in excess of the sums indicated by the preliminary estimates, issued early in January, says the Goldfield Tribune. Profits showed a material advance over those of recent months and operating costs were well below the average that has been maintained in the past. Ore from the deep levels of the Grizzly Bear mine was shipped to the smelter for treatment, as its content of silver and copper renders it refractory and a better recovery is effected by smelting than by milling.

The usual amount of new development was performed and the results of this work, particularly in the territory about the newly opened ore body on the Combination, have been highly satisfactory, as indicated by the quality of ore produced from this ground during the month. The fact that ore is being mined on the 1300-foot level that averages above $46 per ton is also a cause of gratification to the management. Superintendent Thorne's report follows:

Mr. George Wingfield, President,

The Goldfield Consolidated Mines Co., Reno, Nevada.

Dear Sir:

During the month of December, 1912, the total production of your company was 27,908 tons, containing $457,951.92, or an average of $16.41 per ton, of which 27,651 tons were milled with an average extraction of 94.28 per cent, and 252 tons were shipped of an average value of $24.40 per ton, the net recovery from all ore being $15.48 per ton. The net realization to your company was $270,561.57, or $9.69 per ton.

Development work—3297 feet of development work was performed during the month of December, 1912.

Operating costs—The total cost of mining, development, transportation, milling, office and general expense was $5.72 per ton, distributed as follows:

Mining, including stoping and development	$3.97
Transportation	.07
Milling	2.12
Marketing	.06
General expenses	.45
Bullion tax	.67
Marketing ore	.81

Total cost of operation $5.85

Miscellaneous earnings .13

Net cost per ton $5.72

Combination—The new ore body on the second level has been opened out to a considerable extent during the month. The 136-BX sill being cut in it, produced 906 tons of ore averaging $70 per ton.

Mohawk—The 3-P sill on the 150-foot level in the old Sheets-lah country produced 289 tons of ore averaging $19.20 per ton.

Clermont—The 649 drift just below the 900-foot level 750 feet south of the shaft encountered the downward extension of the 524 ore body, and produced 38 tons of ore averaging $28.20 per ton. The sill of the 802-A stope on the 1300-foot level of the Grizzly Bear produced 287 tons averaging $46.55 per ton, which was shipped to the smelter.

The development of the 1400-foot level has been rather slow owing to a large flow of water encountered early in the month, necessitating the installation of additional pumps. The work of prospecting the latite quartz mass for the downward extension of the 1300 ore bodies is going forward steadily, and there is every reason to believe that within a short time commercial ore will be found on this level.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) J. F. THORN,
Genl. Superintendent.

Shh! Ladies! Secret to Darken
Faded Gray Hair—Use Sage Tea

SAGE MIXED WITH SULPHUR RESTORES NATURAL COLOR AND LUSTRE TO HAIR

Why suffer the handicap of looking old. Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance.

Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use; but listen, avoid preparations put up by druggists as they usually use too much sulphur, which makes the hair sticky. Get "Wyeth's" which can always be depended upon to darken beautifully and is the best thing known to remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

By using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair. It does it so naturally and evenly—you moisten a sponge or soft brush, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time which requires but a few moments. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two its natural color is restored and it becomes glossy and lustrous and you appear years younger.

At the Butler this evening the usual splendid up-to-date program of pictures will be shown as follows: "The Latest addition to the United States Navy," topical; "The Winking Parson," comedy; "The Farm Bully," Kalem drama, and a Vitagraph comedy entitled "Absent Minded Valet." Almost unconscious he is alive, big, fat, good-for-nothing Joe secure a position as a valet. He does everything wrong. Packs his master's trunks for a trip to the country and leaves the keys at home. Mails the railroad checks instead of letters. Fills the bathtub with boiling water, almost parboiling his employer. The latter throws Joe in the water and discharges him with his choicest execrations. Hughie Mack plays the part of the thoughtless valet. Tomorrow, "At Napoleon's Command," an historical drama in two reels. Next Saturday, Pathe's Weekly.
